

Adrián Barrio Andrés

Software developer & Web designer

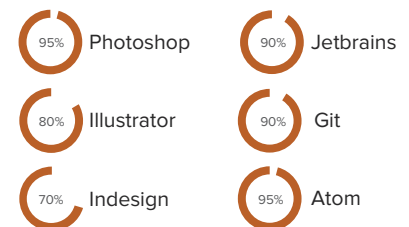

About me

I am Adrián Barrio, I have more than 10 years of experience in the whole Internet, I have touched each and every one of the fields that contain it, leaving me finally with the development and web design. Every day I get up for a new challenge. I am characterized by the constant desire to learn and my proactivity. I am currently working as a freelance for different companies in the sector.
